Note: If a test is missed because of a family matter or illness you should contact your Associate Dean WITHIN ONE WEEK of the missed work with the appropriate documentation. If the instructor is informed officially by the Associate Dean, then an exemption will be given for the missed work. In this case, marks for a missed quiz will be added to your final exam.

In case of Difficulty/Problems

- Contact your instructor or your T.A. as soon as possible. Failing that, contact your Associate Dean
- If you have concerns about preparing for tests and examinations, improving your study habits, giving class presentations, or mastering English as a second language, the Centre for Student Development can help.

Academic Dishonesty Academic dishonesty consists of misrepresentation by deception or by other fraudulent means and can result in serious consequences, e.g. the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: “Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty”), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. For information on the various kinds of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, specifically Appendix 3, located at http://www.mcmaster.ca/senate/academic/ac_integrity.htm The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty: 1. Plagiarism, e.g. the submission of work that is not one’s own or for which other credit has been obtained. 2. Improper collaboration in group work. 3. Copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.
