

Dynamical Systems

- Discrete-time dynamical systems describe a sequence of measurements made at equally spaced intervals
- Continuous-time dynamical systems, usually known as differential equations, describe measurements that change continuously

Conversions

To be studied independently... look at tables in section 1.2, do conversion, etc.